THE GUILD OF ARTISTS AND ARTISANS EXHIBITION RULES

RULE 1: Exhibitors must comply with all local ordinances, regulations, and rules.

(Exhibiting member: an individual who has successfully passed a jury or standards review)

RULE 2: Booth spaces may not be transferred or otherwise reassigned by the artist.

RULE 3: By one hour prior to fair opening on the fair's first day, artists must have claimed (by their presence, or [if necessary] by phone) their booth space, otherwise their space may be resold with no refund issued.

RULE 4: The Exhibiting artist(s) must be present at the fair no less than 60% of each day.

RULE 5: Booth structure and display must not exceed the limits of the assigned space. Art work hanging from display panels will not obstruct, or block clear and free passage. If your art work is hazardous, or interferes with your neighbor you will be asked to remove it. Booth substructure must not impede water flow.

RULE 6: Booth holders may share their space with no more than one other exhibiting member.

RULE 7: Picture I.D. is required for fair registration, and must be presented upon the request of Rules Committee members or Guild staff at any time during the fair.

RULE 8: Unless artists are officially notified, by the Art Fair Director or the Director's designee, of a fair emergency, booths must be opened at the fair starting time and not closed before the fair closing time. Artists concerned with their personal safety may close. Artists are expected to reopen as soon as the dangerous situation has ended.

RULE 9: All storage must be neatly concealed within the defined booth space.

RULE 10: Signs advertising sales or markdowns are prohibited.

RULE 11: Pets are prohibited on the fair site. Certified service animals are allowed.

RULE 15: When required, backdrops must be used for fairs.

Rules Violations

Decisions regarding rules compliance are determined by the Rules Committee members or designated staff. Exhibitors found to be in violation of the rules may be issued a rules violation notice. Exhibitors must comply immediately upon notification that they are in violation of the rules. If continued non-compliance is observed, exhibitors may be given further points for the same or other violations. Violations may be issued during or after a fair. From one (1) to ten (10) points may be assessed per violation. Accumulation of ten (10) points over a three (3) year period results in the suspension of exhibiting privileges for thirteen (13) months from the fair date of the violation resulting in the tenth (10th) point.

Rules Appeals

Exhibitors have the right to an appeal in person or in writing to the Rules Committee, after violation points are given. The appeal must be made within sixty (60) days of the date of the rules violation notification letter, which will be sent from the Guild office.

Exhibition Standards

Through the enforcement of its Exhibition Standards, The Guild seeks to maintain and increase fair attendees' and exhibiting artists' confidence in the credibility and authenticity of Guild events and to protect participating artists from unfair competition. An impartial and equal enforcement of the Exhibition Standards ensures these goals will be met and an appropriate atmosphere will be created for the sale of artwork. The exhibiting artist is responsible for being in compliance with The Guild's Exhibition Standards. What constitutes being in or out of compliance with the Exhibition Standards, in all cases, will be determined by The Guild. The decision of The Guild is final.

Exhibition Standards:

- 1) All work must be the original design of the artist; the essential work required to make each finished piece must be done by the artist. The artist is expected to be the major contributor of the time required in the essential production of the work. Helpers or assistants do not replace the artist in the production of a piece. They are permitted to assist in the non-essential and more mundane processes that go into the production of a finished piece. The only exceptions allowed are defined in Exhibition Standards #2.
- 2) No more than 25 percent of the work in an exhibitor's booth may be reproductions; this policy applies to all media. Each piece must be clearly marked with the word "reproduction." Exhibitors must use the word reproduction; other terms, including "print," may not be used to refer to a reproduction. The presentation of the reproductions must play a visually subordinate role to the entirety of the exhibitor's display. Reproductions of the artist's own original work are the only reproductions allowed within the artist's booth. Determination of what constitutes an original or a reproduction is determined by The Guild of Artists & Artisans. The decision of The Guild is final.
- 3) All work must be safe, non-toxic, and fit for its intended use. If any work requires special or limited use, this will be fully disclosed and explained to the public.

- 4) Any commercially produced parts used in a work must play a subordinate role and may not be sold separately.
- 5) A mass-produced, cluttered, or commercial appearance to an artist display is not permitted. Limited multiples of items may be displayed where color and size are varied and are required to show clearly the range of items available for sale to fair attendees. However, if the display presents an overwhelming number of multiples resulting in a commercial appearance, as determined by the Standards Committee, on-site adjustments will be requested and compliance will be required.
- 6) The artwork exhibited by the artist at the event must match the quality and balance of the images submitted to either the Standards Review or the event jury. The artwork exhibited at the event by the artist must also match the scope and volume of the images submitted for either the Standards Review or for the event jury. An artist is not permitted to submit images presenting complex and detailed artwork but come to the event with a large quantity (more than 15 percent of the work displayed) of simple work. If artists wish to display a large quantity of simple work, it must be presented in the same proportion as presented in the review or jury images.

Note: The Guild understands that small work can be an important and essential sale item for an artist, therefore, an artist may display up to 15 percent of small work without a separate review or jury image. The small work must be clearly shown in the artist's booth image. In addition, it is also understood (and encouraged) that experimentation with new work is part of the creative process. Ten percent of an artist's display may be devoted to new work, without a separate review or jury image, if the new work is within the same medium and if the new work is of comparable quality to the artwork presented in the artist's review or jury images.

Exemptions

If an artist believes his or her work transcends these standards, the artist is welcomed to apply to The Guild's Standards Committee for determination of eligibility. The request must be made in writing at least 60 days prior to the fair for which the determination is requested. There is no guarantee that an exemption will be granted. The decision of The Guild is final.

Acceptability of Specific Work

The Standards Committee, in an effort to help artists determine whether their specific artwork complies with The Guild's Exhibition Standards, has prepared the following list of artwork that does not meet the Standards requirements. This list is a guideline to help artists determine whether or not their artwork is Standards eligible; it is neither exhaustive, nor is unacceptable work limited to the items listed.

Ineligible work includes but is not limited to:

Jewelry

- Cut coin jewelry
- Enamels on manufactured representational copper shapes
- Jewelry made of manufactured components
- Commercial beads. Beads must be made by the artist. There are only two exemptions to this rule:
 - 1) If the beads are not made by the artist, they must clearly play a subordinate role in the finished piece; and
 - 2) The requirement that beads must be made by the artist does not apply in the technique known as bead weaving, however, commercial bead weaving kits are not permitted.
- Stud earrings in commercial settings
- Pearls whether in necklaces or bracelets. Note: Pearl necklaces and/or bracelets are permitted if they have an ornament and/or fastener that is both intricate and a focal point of the piece and have been handmade by the artist. Pearl earrings are permitted as long as the setting has been designed and handmade by the artist.

Clothing

- T-shirts, sweat shirts, hats, and other commercially manufactured clothes, no matter how embellished by the artist
- Manufactured belt buckles sold separately from the belts

Other

- Manufactured tiles with a design as a major component of the piece
- Enamels on manufactured representational copper shapes
- Bowls, plates, glasses and other commercially manufactured items, no matter how embellished by the artist
- Dried flowers, in groups, arrangements, or bouquets
- Wreaths
- Anything made in a commercial mold, in any medium
- Anything made using a commercial kit, in any medium
- Tole painting
- Dough art
- Country crafts
- CDs and tapes
- Food

Violations of Rules

Violations of the Exhibition Standards will be handled by the Standards Committee and designated Guild Staff. At all Guild fairs, every attempt will be made to inform artists as soon as possible of violations by issuing a Standards Warning Report. This warning gives the exhibiting artist a chance to correct the problem without penalty as long as the correction is immediate. If the problem is not corrected or if the violation is a continuing problem, the artist may be subject to stronger consequences that may include loss of exhibiting privileges. If the Committee is not able to resolve a problem during the fair, the Committee will review the situation and determine any necessary action following the event.

The Standards Committee will make a good faith effort to inform artists of any potential standards problems and what steps to take to correct the problems following the Standards Review or the event jury. However, it is the responsibility of the artists to comply with the Exhibition Standards.

There are two rules that are considered to be inviolable under any circumstances:

- 1) Engaging in “buy-sell” practices, that is, buying the work done by another and selling it as your own; or
- 2) Selling commercially produced reproductions of the work of another artist.

If it is discovered that an artist has engaged in either of these practices, that artist will lose Guild exhibiting privileges immediately and permanently.

Appeals

Artists may appeal to the Standards Committee after violation notifications. Appeals must be submitted in writing within 30 days of the artist receiving the violation notification. The artist may request to present the appeal in person before the Standards Committee; in person appeals are limited to 15 minutes. Notification of approval or denial of the appeal will be sent to the artist, in writing, as soon as possible after the decision has been made. The decision of The Guild is final.
