Anything Goes 2024 Guest Juror: Ingrid Ankerson

Ingrid Ankerson is a printmaker, quilter, and graphic designer living in Ypsilanti where she runs a small letterpress studio out of her home. She makes single and small edition intricate typographic prints using small metal type. Most recently her work was included in the group show “Wavelengths” at the Ann Arbor Art center, “The Voice in the Hand” at the Petaluma Art Center (CA), and in the New Impressions exhibit at the Hamilton Wood Type Museum (WI). She is full-time faculty in the Digital Media Arts program at Washtenaw Community College.
